President Hollis Moore dies

University President Dr. Hollis Moore Jr. died Sunday in the Medical College of Ohio Hospital in Toledo following a short illness.

Moore had been receiving treatment for a brain tumor during the last two months. He was admitted to the hospital Feb. 23 for treatment of an infection and was released March 20. He was receiving radiation treatment on an out-patient basis until he was readmitted to the hospital April 6.

Moore, the University's seventh president, began his term in July 1970. Prior to coming to Bowling Green, he was vice president of academic affairs at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

DURING MOORE'S 11 years at the University, the College of Health and Community Services and the College of Musical Arts were formed, a University Division program was opened to offer special programs to freshmen, facilities and programs were improved in residence halls and doctorates were added to the history and mathematics departments, bringing the total Ph.D. programs to eight.

The Student Recreation Center and Musical Arts Building and Concert Hall were built in the last five years, and the University's up-dated system of planning and budgeting has become a model for other institutions in Ohio.

The School of Speech Communication was formed in 1975, the SAGE program for senior citizens was started in 1976, the School of Technology formed in 1973 and the School of Health, Physical Education and Recreation formed in 1979.

A NATIVE of Pierce City, Mo., Moore attended high school in Texas. He was a 1946 graduate of Baylor University where he studied history and political science. In 1953, he received his doctoral degree in education administration from the University of Texas. He also was the recipient of honorary degrees by Hanyang University in Korea and Central Michigan University.

He served with the 11th Armored Division in the Third Army of the European Theater during World War II.

Moore began his career as a social studies teacher in Austin, Texas and in 1952 he became Associate Editor of The Nations Schools. In 1955, he was named executive secretary for the Committee for the Advancement of School Administration, and in 1960 he moved to Tucson, Ariz. where he became Dean of the College of Education at the University of Arizona.

Moore also served as a visiting lecturer at Northwestern University, the University of Virginia, the University of Denver, Stanford University, University of Nebraska and at Northern Arizona University. He was a member of the White House Conference on Education, the Arizona Advisory Committee on Certification, Consultant on Research and Demonstration for the U.S. Office of Education, the Education Advisory Committee for the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, and a member of the Board of Directors of Central Midwestern Regional Educational Laboratory Inc.

HE WAS AUTHOR or contributing author of 10 books and numerous journal articles on university and school administration.

Since 1974, he had been a member of a task force on Operation Outreach of the American Association of Schools, Colleges, and Universities. He also served as chairman of the Mid-American Athletic Conference from 1977 to 1979.

Moore also was a member of the Belmont Country Club, the Press Club of Toledo, the Bowling Green Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis International, the Confrerie des Chevaliers du Tastevin and the Caranor Hunt and Polo Club.

MOORE IS survived by his wife, Marian, two sons, Hollis A. III, Cincinnati, and Michael, Mexico City, Mexico; one sister, Pat Foshee; one brother, Randolph; and one grandchild.

Private services will be held today, and there will be no visitation.

A memorial service will be held 2 p.m. Wednesday in Kobacker Hall, Musical Arts Center.

The family requests that any tributes be in the form of contributions in Moore's name to the University.

Dr. Hollis Moore served the University for ten years as president. His number of years as president was the second longest in the University's history.

Housing code proposal fails in 6 to 1 decision

by Craig Hyde
News staff reporter

After four and a half hours of discussion, Bowling Green City Council voted against the proposed housing code in a 6-1 decision.

Council heard comments from townspeople, students and city officials, including Roger Weaver of Student Government Association, and Michael Grayson and Edward Aumiller of the Student Consumer Union and then presented their personal views on the issue.

Speaking first in opposition of the code was Dr. Charles A. Barrell, councilman, who said he has received a flood of calls, letters and memos on the subject.

"In my fifteen plus years on council I have never seen the community so divided on an issue," he said.

BARRELL said he opposes the code because of the degree of government involvement, the cost, the unclear need demonstrated and the lack of privacy it would impose.

Barrell suggested that an ombudsman, or troubleshooter be created by the city, to consult with renters who have housing problems.

Bruce Bellard, president of council, said that he has received little correspondence concerning the code, and that because of monetary concerns, a lack of privacy and an already existing code, he would vote "no."

Councilman Joseph Corral opposed the code in a lengthy speech. He called his alternative approach to the code, The Ten Most Wanted Plan.

The plan would call for an inter-government committee to keep a list of the ten most poorly maintained rental properties each week, which would be referred to the County Health Dept. for action.

CORRAL SAID, "I wholeheartedly endorse all the positive approaches to the goal of upgrading the housing in Bowling Green."

Councilwoman Joyce Kepke questioned how many serious problems we have in Bowling Green.

She said that the code would promote a decrease in low cost housing.

"I maintain some cannot afford tighter rents," she said. "I feel the cost (of the proposed code) would be justified if we had no other alternatives."

Classes canceled

All classes and activities are canceled between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Wed., April 22 to permit the University community to attend memorial services for former President Hollis Moore, Michael Ferrari, provost and executive vice president, said.

The service for Moore will be at Kobacker Hall at 2 p.m. It will be televised over Channel 7 of the University's closed circuit television system, which can be viewed in dorm lounges and academic buildings.

Supervisors are urged to arrange work scheduled wherever possible to enable University employees to attend services either in Kobacker or at one of the closed circuit locations.

Body found; Atlanta child missing

ATLANTA (AP) - The naked body of a black person at least 15 years old was discovered yesterday on the banks of the Chattahoochee River, but authorities said they were unable to determine immediately whether the body was male or female.

"We kind of think it's a male, but we don't know for sure," Fulton County Police Chief Clinton Chafin said after the body had been removed to the Fulton County medical examiner's office. He estimated the age at 15 or more.

Sgt. Ted Hall of the Atlanta police missing persons unit said a 15-year-old black Atlanta boy was reported missing about 1 1/2 hours after the body was found yesterday. The grandfather of James Ralph Johnson said he had last seen the youth April 6 and had assumed the boy was at his sister's house.

ONLY ONE child still is listed as missing by the special task force probing the slayings of 24 young blacks here in the past 21 months.

Ten-year-old Darron Glass was last seen Sept. 14. His dental records were taken to the medical examiners office in preparation for an autopsy on the body found yesterday. Fulton County Medical Examiner Dr. Robert Stivers said his office would try to obtain dental records on Johnson so "we can at least eliminate him" when the autopsy is performed.

Johnson was described as being 6-foot-2 and weighing about 150 pounds. Most of the 24 victims found since July 1979 have been described as slight.

THE 24th VICTIM, 15-year-old Joseph Bell, was found Easter Sunday. His decomposed body was discovered floating face down in the South River in DeKalb County.

Chafin said the body was naked when it was discovered on a sand bed at the river bank. He said the location was between the sites where two bodies of young black males were pulled from the muddy waters March 30 and March 31.

THE DISCOVERY yesterday marks the seventh time since last November that the body of a young black has been found in or near an area river. It is the fourth body found in the Chattahoochee during that period.

On March 30, the body of 13-year-old Timothy Hill was pulled from the Chattahoochee. The following day, the body of 21-year-old Eddie "Bubba" Duncan, was pulled from the same river less than two miles downstream. Chafin said the body found Monday was between the sites where the bodies of Hill and Duncan were found.

Medical examiners meanwhile said yesterday that Bell probably died of asphyxiation.

Bell was last seen March 2, when he stopped to look for work at a restaurant where he occasionally did odd jobs.

Moore acknowledged as initiator of changes

In the last decade we have been witness to many changes. The University, too, has undergone alterations and adjustments. And now with the death of University President Dr. Hollis Moore we are forced to make another adjustment.

Just as we are the beneficiaries of new programs and services on campus, so are we the mourners of his death. Without his leadership these changes would not have transpired.

Moore once said, "I genuinely believe that there can be ahead for us a decade of distinction like none of the six previous decades in the history of the institution (University)."

He was right. Moore came to the University in July, 1970, and in the last 10 years had overseen the creation of a college of Health and Community Services and a college of Musical Arts. Also during his term of office the Student Recreation Center and Musical Arts Building were opened for students.

In addition, the University's planning and budgeting system has become a model for other state universities.

Moore now is part of University history. He has implemented changes that are in the students best interest and for which we thank him.

And as reapers of the changes, we often overlook the initiator—the one who has given us the opportunity to gain a multitude of new experiences.

It is only fitting that we pause to remember Moore. His accomplishments will remain as testimony to his dedication as our president.

Columbia brings home "American Dream"

Remember dreams?

Remember the first time you really looked at a night sky? Or remember the thrill when you climbed the tree all the other kids said couldn't be climbed? Remember the feeling of working for something you really believed in, and then the glorious triumph of having a dream come true?

Well, until 1:22 p.m. on April 14, these were feelings that most Americans had forgotten.

We used to have something very special in this country; we had the "American Dream" — spelled in letters 10-feet high. We were a "superpower" in the world. And why? Because we believed in ourselves, that's why.

But over the past 20 years America's had its dreams eaten away by endless streams of spiraling inflation, political corruption and gloating oil sheiks. The years we spent wasting energy came home to haunt us, and we quit caring about anything but ourselves.

Put simply, the "American Dream" had become the "American Nightmare." So we decided to put dreams up on the shelf. In their place, we gained disco and the "Me Generation", and our new motto became "Look Out For Number One."

And until Columbia touched down last Tuesday, we were very content and cow-like, living our 9 to 5, self-centered lives.

The crowds that saw the shuttle land were touched in a very special way — for the first time in years, there was a new pride in the label "American". For those who stood in the desert sun, and for the countless TV-viewers who also watched, there was the flicker of a new dream.

I pray to God that American can discover its dreams. Columbia brought back more than just her two passengers. She's delivered safe and sound a new future for us and the world.

The shuttle can open the roads to unlimited solar power, new supplies of disappearing raw materials, and a new American identity. In a few years we will have the first "fleet" of spacecraft, and if we can hold on to our dreams, the military aspects can be held to a minimum. We can pioneer a new technology and make the world a better place.

Hail Columbia! It's time to dream again!

The "Columbia" Space Shuttle went off without a hitch. That was because it was on television, and everyone involved took extra pains to see that nothing went wrong. But in several years when we take Space Shuttle flights for granted, astronauts can expect the same problems that people who fly commercial airlines encounter.

"Are you in charge of luggage for the spaceship 'America'?"

"Yes sir."

"Well I was on it, and my luggage didn't arrive. It had my electric razor and all my tooth-paste in it."

"These things happen. Could you show me on this card what bag it resembles the most?"

"This one here."

"I see. Well, let me call and check if Cape Canaveral knows anything about it... George, Harry here at Edwards Air Force Base. You haven't seen a brown three-suitcase with green straps, that was supposed to be on the 'America' flight today? Yeh, it was routed from the moon, via Atlanta. The number is 43216-E, like in Eastern Airlines. Take a look around will you? Hmnn. You haven't? Thanks, I'll check with Atlanta."

"Did they locate it?"

"No sir. But I'm sending a telex to Atlanta to see if it might have been unloaded and put on our red-eye flight to Venus."

"You have to find it. I've got film in it of the Earth that has never been seen before."

"Now don't get excited. I'm doing the best I can."

"Why can't you people at NASA be more careful with people's luggage?"

"I only work in Lost and Found. I'm not responsible for the entire space program."

"I'm expected at the White House tomorrow for a dinner with the President of the United States. My tuxedo is in that bag."

Students given thanks for their open hearts

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for opening your hearts to Danny Green. Thank you to those who donated blood in Danny's name, made signs to promote the Danny Green Fund, and to the many participants who took part in the various campus events.

Though we only hear about the wrong being done by America's young people, our hearts are warmed to know that the students of the University are kind, compassionate, and generous fellow beings.

When we think of what you did for our little boy, we are proud beyond words to be a part of this community.

People understand guns only too well

I am writing this letter in response to the Focus article by Rodolfo Telles regarding gun control. I would be in favor of some kind of improved gun control legislation, though my feelings about this issue are not particularly strong. The true purpose of this letter, I suppose, is to ask the opponents of gun control to come up with a more convincing spokesperson.

Telles' arguments about the accuracy of handguns would have been much more credible had he brought in John Hinkley as a visual aid. There is a guy who was just trying to shoot someone and he ended up shooting four men and one car. He's probably sitting in his jail cell right now, kicking himself for having left his howitzer back in the hotel room.

Telles' statement about the chances of being fatally wounded by a bullet (which he says are "extremely small") did not cause me to breathe a "Just calm down. We'll find it. Atlanta should be back to me any moment."

"Why, when I take a flight to the moon, does my luggage have to go through Atlanta?"

"Everything has to go through Atlanta. It's an FAA regulation."

"I'm going to write to the head of NASA about this."

"You'll only get a form letter back."

"I'm not leaving until you find it."

"Here comes the reply from Atlanta. Hmmm. There seems to have been a slight mixup. Your bag was apparently put on our super-shuttle flight to Jupiter."

"When will I get it?"

"Let's see, it will take a year to get there, and a year to get back. You should have it by June of 1987."

"I can't wait that long. I packed all my moon rocks in the suitcase."

"Now that was a silly thing to do. Why didn't you put them in your carry-on bag?"

"BECAUSE I HAD TO PUT ALL MY OXYGEN GEAR IN MY CARRY-ON BAG."

"Please don't shout. You're making the other people who lost their luggage nervous. What hotel are you staying at? We'll send it by taxi as soon as it arrives."

"I don't know what hotel I'll be staying in."

"We'll be very happy to supply you with a toothbrush and shaving gear until the Jupiter Shuttle returns."

"I don't want a toothbrush. I want my luggage."

"Oh dear, I hate to see an astronaut cry, sir. Maybe Atlanta made a mistake and your bag was only sent to Mars. Then you'd get it back by next winter."

"What you're really trying to tell me is that you have no idea where my luggage is, and you just gave me this cock-and-bull story about it going to Venus to get rid of me."

"To be honest, it could have gone to Venus or Biloxi, Mississippi. When our people tag the luggage, they always get the two places mixed up."

sigh of relief. I would rather not be wounded at all, thank you, be it fatally or otherwise.

But if it is my destiny to be shot at, perhaps Telles could let me in on a few of the counter measures that an un-armed man can take when someone is blasting away at point blank range. I assume that the victim in the Jesse James story utilized the very elusive "dear God, save me!" technique.

By the way, does Telles know where Jesse deposited the next five rounds, after having missed with the first?

Finally, if it is true that guns are used as psychological weaponry, then why do so many criminals tend to put bullets in the guns? I mean, why are they necessary? I, for one, am not afraid of guns — it's bullets that scare me! To say that people don't understand guns is erroneous. The fact is that people understand them all too well, and that's why there are so many of us saying that we've had enough.

Fraternity system deserves a chance

Pardon me ladies, but what happened to the good old American principle that one is innocent until proven guilty. According to everything I've read in any of the newspapers, all of the incidents at the Phi Delta Theta house are alleged. No one has been convicted yet, at least not by the courts.

However, according to various campus organizations, fraternities have been convicted, as shown by the march held Thursday night. Give us a break. Please.

There are over 600 men in fraternities on this campus. Believe it or not a lot of us do some good for the campus and the community. My fraternity, for example, raised over $1,200 for a local charity two weeks ago. Most other fraternities also sponsor fund raising events for charities.

Just because six out of the 600 plus fraternity men are accused of a crime do all of us have to be convicted? If these allegations are proven to be true, then I agree, the Phi Dels should be dealt with accordingly. If, however, these allegations are proven to be false, then I feel someone owes the brothers of Phi Delta Theta an apology.

In either case, I feel that someone owes the rest of the fraternity system an apology, because the other 594 fraternity men had nothing to do with this ugly incident.

Durniak says media shaken by scam

by Dean Koepfler
News photographer

Scam — the word frequently used by the media to label political corruption and dishonesty, was used again last night to describe yet another scandal. But this time it involves the media.

"Pulitzer scam" was the label used by New York Times Picture Editor John Durniak to describe the scandal which became evident last week after Janet Cooke, a reporter for the Washington Post, admitted she fabricated her Pulitzer Prize-winning feature story about an eight-year-old heroin addict.

Durniak, a 1950 University graduate, delivered the annual Grove Patterson Address marking the beginning of Journalism Week, which will continue through Friday.

"THE LAST eight days have shaken journalism like no other days in my life," Durniak said. Durniak fears that what happened at the Washington Post could have a long-lasting effect on the Pulitzer Prize and the journalism profession.

"The credibility of the Pulitzer prize and of the Washington Post may have been permanently damaged," Durniak said.

Durniak said the result of the Pulitzer scam will be a tension between editors and reporters on other newspapers, because "a Janet Cooke can happen to anyone."

"There are journalists risking their lives to bring the public the truth," he added.

Durniak said leading journalists such as Photographer David Burnett are "risking their lives to bring the public the truth."

Burnett, who heads Contact Photo Agency, was in Iran during the revolution and overthrow of the Shah of Iran.

Durniak said, "For an American to be in Iran at this time (it) was a hair away from suicide."

Associates recognize Moore for continuity

by Lisa Bowers
editor

The flags waved at half-staff yesterday in remembrance of University President Dr. Hollis Moore Jr. who died Sunday.

Moore's 11-year-term bridged the anti-establishment era of the 1960s and the individualistic period of the 1980s.

"He had a special understanding of what students were thinking and how they tried to sort things out. He was just ready-made for the 1970s," Richard Edwards, University vice president, said.

Edwards came to the University in February 1971. He and Moore worked closely during the years and Edwards said theirs was a give and take relationship.

"HE WAS quick to get a reading on situations. Hollis believed in a decentralized administration and he was bothered by the 'president knows best' view.

"But he also believed in accountability. He was not hesitant to tell people to shape up if they needed it," Edwards said. "He could be very demanding and he liked things to go right and well. But he also had a good sense of humor and while times could be tense, he knew how to relax."

One of Moore's assets was his ability to grasp the main point of a problem, even when it was surrounded by "muck," he said. Moore also was a refined speaker and writer and Edwards said that many administrators "felt the heat of his editing."

"He was trained as an editor and he never lost his love for it. He could go through his mail lickety-split and find any grammatical errors there were. He had little patience for grammatically incorrect letters," he added.

EDWARDS described Moore as a competitive person, someone who constantly strived to better himself.

"Whether he was doing something for fun or if in the arena of policy issues, he moved forward. He was full of bold strokes and I admired the way he'd say, 'We're going to do this' and we'd do it."

"I give him high marks in terms of the manner he carried out his work as president. I've known a lot of presidents and former presidents," Edwards noted. "It's a thankless job. But somehow he was able to wade through the ambiguities and complexities and keep an even course."

Dr. Joseph Balogh, assistant to the provost, was the first person from the University to meet Moore. Balogh was on the screening committee of Faculty Senate which interviewed prospective presidential candidates. He went to George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., to interview Moore.

"BEFORE I went down there, I had my misgivings. But after I met him, talked with his colleagues and students, it was clearly evident that the guy was actually running Peabody. He was quite a leader."

"Hollis had a lot of compassion and empathy for people — a lot more than people thought he had. He cared and he was interested in people," he said.

Moore was the fifth University president that Balogh had served under. He said Moore "stood his ground" on every issue, a characteristic that he described as notable.

"Hollis Moore had more intestinal fortitude than any other president I've seen. He always knew where he was going. Moore developed more innovative programs than the other four presidents put together," Balogh added.

Moore abided by the "work hard, play hard" philosophy, Balogh said, and he set certain objectives for himself and others. Moore always was willing to talk to anyone, he added, and he kept an "open door" of communication.

JAMES HOF, vice president of Alumni and Development, was a personal friend of Moore's and had traveled across the country with him. Hof noted that Moore had met with every Alumni chapter in the United States.

"He really did a job of selling Bowling Green. He was obviously the greatest public relations person of all of the presidents."

"The greatest area of growth in the Alumni Association came in Moore's decade. Just today we had calls from all over the U.S. from people who were shocked to hear the news. That tells you something about the kind of president he was," Hof said.

Moore's greatest accomplishment was his rapport with students, Hof said. Moore showed a "personal interest" in students.

"When he first came here I remember him saying how he would never forget people. He had a great warmth and a keen personal interest in people," Hof recalled. "He was not only fun and witty, but a down-to-earth person."

EDWARDS noted that Moore had a special interest in intercollegiate athletics. He said that in the last year Moore spent time studying issues facing intercollegiate athletics.

"He took losses quite hard. He always wanted to win and yet in a fair and square way. While he had no reason to doubt that things (our programs) were not the way they should be, he wanted to satisfy himself that we were meeting the fine points," he added.

Bowling Green basketball coach John Weinert said Moore strengthened the athletic program.

"Dr. Moore was a very fine administrator and a positive force in creating a very healthy athletic program. I think he took a very positive and realistic approach to athletics."

"Too many presidents are either very pro-athletics or very negative-athletics. Dr. Moore had a great ability to be realistic and fair to fans, coaches and players."

Economy grows at 6.5 percent rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy grew at a robust 6.5 percent annual rate in the first quarter of 1981, the biggest jump in nearly three years, the government reported yesterday. But the Reagan administration quickly contended the good news is no reason to dump the president's economic recovery plans.

At the White House, where officials have been talking of an economy in dire straits, Murray Weidenbaum, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, conceded that the new Commerce Department figures showed "a nice start" for the year.

But he argued that the brisk growth should not "overshadow the fact that inflation and unemployment show little sign of near-term improvement.

The near-term outlook suggests that we will not be able to duplicate the first quarter's performance," Weidenbaum said in a prepared statement.

The first-quarter Commerce report showed a 6.5 percent annual growth rate for "real" gross national product — the value of all American goods and services after discounting for inflation.

Day in review

Church burns Easter bunny

NILES, Ohio (AP) — Three members of a northern Ohio church were charged with disorderly conduct and violating open burning laws after a 5 foot Easter bunny was burned as a pagan idol on the church lawn.

Police in Niles said the elder of the Truth Tabernacle and two members set the stuffed rabbit ablaze in an afternoon ceremony on Easter Sunday.

Timothy Cayten, 20, of Warren and Danny Chitwood, 32, of Niles pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of disorderly conduct and violation city burning laws. Vernon Cayten, 32, the elder, pleaded innocent to disorderly conduct and obstructing official business and pleaded no contest to violating the open burning law. He was fined $50 in Municipal Court.

Police said the white bunny was seated on a chair on top of a table decorated with colored eggs and flowers. They said that when they tried to arrest the three men, they ran around the table, chanting and yelling.

During the ceremony, Cayten called anyone who had Easter bunnies "heathens and dummies who worshipped pagan gods."

Victim Rights Week April 20-26

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James Rhodes, saying crime victims and witnesses often are overlooked by the justice system, officially had proclaimed this week as Victim Rights Weeks.

Victim Rights Week, from April 20-26, has been sponsored nationally for several years by the National Organization for Victim Assistance, based in Virginia. More than 25 states observed the week last year.

The special week is aimed at increasing the public's awareness of problems experienced by crime victims and witnesses.

Navy accepts liability for collision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid growing furor in Japan, the Navy announced yesterday that it "accepts liability for the collision" between the U.S. missile-firing submarine George Washington and a Japanese merchant ship earlier this month.

The Navy said it expects "all appropriate claims will be satisfactorily negotiated."

The brief Navy statement concerned the sinking of the 2,350-ton Japanese freighter Nissho Maru April 9, about 110 miles off the southern tip of Japan. The captain and another crewman are missing and presumed dead. Thirteen other crewmen survived when the Shanghai bound freighter sank within 15 minutes.

"This action was taken in order to preclude lengthy litigation and to permit the Navy to enter promptly into negotiations with all involved parties," the Navy said.

The Navy has said the George Washington, traveling at shallow depths in the East China Sea, surfaced after the collision but "sighted the vessel steaming away in no apparent distress."

Weekend wrap-up

Falcons set 5 records

The Bowling Green women's track team broke five school records en route to a second-place finish in the All-Ohio Meet in Columbus last weekend. Kim Jamison and Diana Jennings both were involved in record-breaking events. Jamison broke her own school record in the 200-meter dash by running a first place time of 24.2. Jennings also broke her own record in the long jump with a leap of 18-6½ that won the event.

The two then combined with Kelly Jamison and Jane Guilford to win the 400 relay, breaking that BG record. Their time was 47.7.

The same foursome that ran the 400 relay placed third in the 800 medley relay with a time of 1:49.4.

Sandra Cook set a new record in the 10,000 run with a third-place time of 37:52.8. Sue Klembarsky broke her own record while placing fourth with a throw of 137-10 in the discus.

HOST OHIO STATE won the meet with a score of 163 points. The Falcons had a runner-up total of 132. BG coach Pat Brett said she was extremely pleased with her team's performance in the 22-team meet.

"I'm very happy with the way we did," she said. "We gave Ohio State the best scare they've had for a while in this championship. We lead for most of the meet."

Terri Gindlesberger won the 5,000 run with a time of 18:03.2. Karen McQuilkin was second in 18:17.5. Jenny Thornton took the 400 hurdles with a 1:05 clocking while Joy Clawson was third in 1:07.1.

Kathy Kaczor and Bev Lynch teamed for second and third-place finishes in the 3,000 run. Their times were 10:29.0 and 10:38.8, respectively. Guilford was second in the 100 dash in 12.0. Kelly Jamison was sixth with a time of 12.5.

The 1600-meter relay placed third with a time of 4:02.5. Members of the squad were Thornton, Kendra Hazlett, Clawson and Jennings.

Laxers lose 2 at Denison

Bowling Green's women's lacrosse team lost a pair of matches this weekend at Denison to drop its season mark to 2-4.

The Falcon laxers were soundly defeated by Denison in the opening match, 15-3, before losing to Wittenberg, 18-11.

Chris Werner scored two goals and Mary Armbrust added one in the Denison game. BG had 23 attempts, while Denison scored on 15 of 40 tries.

In the Wittenberg match, BG trailed 7-5 at the half, but six of Wittenberg's first eight shots in the second half found the net to lock up the win.

Armbrust scored six goals while teammates Werner and Robin Buell scored four times and once, respectively.

"The team is making good progress, but we have to set our goals higher against tougher opponents," BG coach Carol Durentini said.

"Our passing throughout the field was bad," she said. "We played well the first half, but the rest of the game we had a break down of basic skills."

The laxers will be in action again this weekend, playing Ball State and Earlham in Muncie, Indiana.

Golfers 16th at Kepler

Bowling Green's men golf team turned an about face in its two tournaments, played last weekend and yesterday.

In the 54-hole Kepler Invitational, played at Ohio State's Scarlet Course in Columbus last weekend, the Falcons fizzled away from a fourth-place start after 18 holes to a dismal 16th-place finish in the 24-team field.

Yesterday, BG regained its composure in the 18-hole Barney Francis Memorial Tournament in Toledo, taking top team honors in the eight-team field with a 389.

The final round of the Kepler tourney, played last Sunday, plagued the Falcon golfers, as Gary Battistoni's 80 was the best individual score carded by any of BG's six players.

Battistoni wound up with BG's lowest score in the tourney, shooting 71-79-80-230. That was four strokes better than teammate John Spengler's 77-76-81-234.

Other Falcon tallies were Jean LaRochelle's 78-77-81-326; Brad Turner's 79-82-88-249; Karl Smith's 79-83-83-246 and Alan Chippindale's 85-81-87-253.

Ohio State, led by tourney medalist Joey Sindelar's 68-71-72-211, won the tournament, beating out runner-up Purdue.

Ball State and Miami tied for fifth and top team honors of the nine Mid-American Conference schools present, with 1170 team totals.

BG reversed its fortunes in the Toledo tourney, with Spengler winning medalist honors with a 74 on the par-70 Toledo Country Club course. Spengler's 74 was matched by Toledo's Dave Jagodzinski and Eastern Michigan's Chris Jobczak. Spengler won the medalist title outright when he stroked a seven iron to within five feet of the third playoff hole, a par three. From there, Spengler tapped it in for the birdie and the title.

Other BG scores included Battistoni's 76; LaRochelle's 78; Mike Dzienny's 78; Smith's 83 and Mark Nickerson's 84.

Finishing behind the Falcons were Eastern Michigan at (395); Toledo (398); Akron (399); Kent State (406); Ashland (422); Central Michigan (425) and Bluffton (438).

Dye, Robinson pace BG

Bowling Green's women's golf team opened its season with a ninth-place finish in the 11-team Marshall Invitational Tournament at Lesage, W. Va., last weekend.

BG's 698 team total was well behind Ohio State's 319 score, which won the 36-hole tourney. Kentucky placed second at 334.

Shelley Dye and Dianne Robinson paced the Falcon effort, each scoring 172. The twosome was followed by Tammy Hull (173), Paula LaNasa (181) and Jean Kempf (182).

Ohio State's Rose Jones was medalist in the tourney, shooting 72-75-147.

Brown grabs four wins

Senior co-captain Jeff Brown's four victories led the men's track team over the two-meet weekend.

The Falcons lost a dual meet to Central Michigan, Friday, 102-61, and competed in the 44th-annual Ohio Relays on Saturday.

Brown's victories came in two relays and two open events. On Friday, Brown clocked a 1:55.02 to win the 800-meter run and teamed with James Wells, Chuck Pullom and Terry Reedus to run a winning time of 3:16.50 in the 1600-meter relay.

SATURDAY, Brown won the 1500 run with a time of 3:57.3 and combined with Dave Agosta, Pullom and Reedus to win the 3200 relay in 7:36.9.

High jumper Dan Saffow turned in a record-breaking effort in his event. His jump of 6-10 on Friday not only won the event, but it also set a school record. Saffow came back Saturday to place fifth with a 6-6 leap.

Other Falcons placed at the Ohio Relays. Chris Koehler was second in the 5,000 run in 14:32. The distance medley relay team of Pullom, Wells, Bob Barrett and Agosta was second with a time of 10:12.5.

ON FRIDAY, the Falcons won only eight of nineteen events against the Chipewas.

Sophomores Agosta and Pullom tied for first place in the 1500 in 4:03.10. Barrett was third with a 4:07.02 clocking. Mark Vermillion won the 110 high hurdles in 15.15, while Kelly Lycan ran a 15.30 to place third.

Wells won the 400 dash in 50.15 and Fred Kundra was third with a 51.26. Smith broke the tape in the 100 dash with a time of 10.7. Reedus took first in the 400 intermediate hurdles by running a 54.80. Lycan was third with a 57.31.

Dudley Cramer cleared 14-6 to place second in the pole vault. Smith was timed in 22.75 for a second place finish in the 200 dash.

Hille placed third in the 800 with a time of 1:56.99 while Los ran a 15:14.24 in the 5,000 to finish third. James Rhoades long jumped 21-3¼ to place third, and Bill Hampton finished third by throwing the javelin 191-5.

'Heartbreak Hill' aids Japan's Seko to marathon summit

BOSTON (AP) — Toshihiko Seko, a durable speedster from Japan, avenged one of his rare losses and ended old rival Bill Rodgers' domination of the Boston Marathon yesterday, pulling away in the final five minutes en route to a record smashing effort in the 85th annual classic.

Seko, who pressed Rodgers to a course and U.S. record two years ago, shaved one second off the American distance king's Boston Marathon mark while covering 26 miles, 385 yards in 2 hours, 9 minutes and 26 seconds.

Rodgers set the record — also an American mark — in 1979.

The 24-year-old Seko, winner of the last three Fukuoka International marathons in Japan although he concentrates on shorter distances, put away Rodgers with about six miles to go and then wore down Craig Virgin of Lebanon, Ill.

Seko sprinted across the finish line more than 250 yards ahead of Virgin, who held on for second place exactly one minute behind in 2:10:26. Rodgers was third in 2:10:34, failing a bid to become the first runner ever to win the Boston Marathon four consecutive years.

John Lodwick of Dallas moved up to take fourth at 2:11:33, outstripping Malcolm East of Pittsburgh, who was two seconds back.

ALLISON ROE of New Zealand set a women's Boston Marathon record in her debut. She ran the route in 2:26:45, shattering the record of 2:34:28 set by Canada's Jacqueline Gareau last year.

Patti Catalano, the queen of U.S. women distance runners, was second in 2:27:51, followed by 1979 Boston winner Joan Benoit in 2:30:15, Julia Shea in 2:30:38 and Gareau in 2:31:26.

After easily clearing "Heartbreak Hill," the last of three hills which cost him victory here in 1979, Seko appeared in command. However, he said he didn't think he took the lead until he passed Rodgers' sporting goods center, less than four miles from the end.

"I ran my own race, set my own pace," Seko said through an interpreter. "I've been training for the hills, and they didn't bother me today. I just didn't want to have a fight at the end."

"Toshihiko was better than anyone here," the 33-year-old Rodgers said. "It was a fantastic race, and he was determined to win. Obviously, Toshihiko will be No. 1 in the world now. I'm just happy I came close to him."

Although the official counting period of finishers ended after 3½ hours, timers remained behind for the arrival of Johnny Kelley, who was running in his 50th Boston Marathon and 108th overall of his career. Kelley, 73, covered the route in 4:01:25.

Bowling Green third baseman Joe Thrasher (left) makes things difficult for Northern Illinois shortstop Brad Kawell, attempting to convert the double play in the second game of last Friday's doubleheader at Steller Field. In the opener, won by BG 11-7, Falcon second baseman Phil Oropallo makes his point on an interference call against NIU second baseman Miquel Sopena. The Falcons lost the nightcap 7-6 and dropped both ends of Saturday's twinbill to Western Michigan, 6-2, 2-1.

Frigid bats cool women

by Chuck Krumel
News staff reporter

Lack of hitting and costly errors spelled doom for the Bowling Green women's softball team as it lost a doubleheader to Ball State, 2-0 and 3-2, last Saturday.

Patty Konczak (2-4) held the Cardinals hitless for the first five innings, with the teams playing to a scoreless tie after seven innings.

In the top of the eighth, BSU's Sherrie Steckley singled but was cut down at second base when Paula Keller's attempted sacrifice failed.

Keller reached first safely on the play and went to third when Falcon catcher Debbie Sanchez picked up Karen Wilson's attempted bunt and threw wild to first base.

WITH RUNNERS at the corners, Ball State attempted a double-steal. Shortstop Karen Spencer cut off Sanchez's throw to second, but Spencer's throw to the plate went in the dirt eluding the Falcon catcher, allowing the run to score. Barb Syler then singled driving in Wilson for the game's second run.

In the second game, the Falcon's, now 7-9, jumped out to a quick 1-0 lead in the first inning. Lisa Shelly walked, took second on Sanchez's sacrifice and scored on an error.

Shelly, who started the second game, set down the first nine batters in order, but suffered control problems in the fourth inning, when she hit the first two batters she faced.

BG coach Sandy Haines called Dianne Richardson in to relieve Shelley, with Cardinals on second and third following a wild pitch.

RICHARDSON, although not giving up a hit, could not keep the Cardinals from scoring as Judy Pettit's sacrifice bunt scored, the first run, tying the game. Theresa Pazintey's ground-out drove in the second run putting the Cardinals ahead for good.

Ball State added another run in the fourth on pitcher Gina Sharp's single and Syler's run-scoring double. The Falcons' other run came in the sixth when Spencer reached second base on an error. Spencer stole third and scored on Karen Cepik's sacrifice fly.

"We played two tough games, but our mistakes cost us," Haines said. "We should have won the second game. We just didn't execute well defensively when we had runners on base."

"Patty (Konczak) pitched a great first game and Dianne (Richardson) did an outstanding job in relief in the second game," Haines said. "We're playing good ball, but we're still committing too many errors on our execution defensively."

Baseball homestand turns hope to horror as Falcons fade

Before last weekend's doubleheaders at Steller Field against Northern Illinois and Western Michigan, Bowling Green baseball coach Don Purvis said that he hoped it would not rain. If Purvis had known that BG would drop three of four games, perhaps he would have hoped otherwise.

The weather was fine, but the Falcons' style of play was not, as BG split with NIU (11-7, 6-7) on Friday and dropped a pair of extra inning battles to WMU (6-2 in 14 innings, 2-1 in 8 innings) on Saturday. The three losses clouded BG's Mid-American Conference title hopes and dropped the Falcons into a three-way tie for third in the conference with Eastern Michigan and Miami, each with 4-4 records.

BG is 12-14 overall after sweeping a non-conference doubleheader, 9-4, 11-2, yesterday, at Ohio Northern.

"We could have won them both or we could split them," Purvis said after Saturday's losses to Western. "Things just didn't go our way."

THAT WAS especially true against WMU, when the Falcons had several opportunities to win both games, but came up empty-handed each time. The two games were tied in 20 of the 22 innings played.

BG managed just seven hits on the day against four Bronco pitchers. And at one point, BG went nine straight innings without a hit.

Both teams scored a pair of runs in the first inning of the opener and went 13 scoreless innings before WMU broke the 2-2 deadlock with a four-run outburst in the 14th.

NIU's game-winning rally started with two out and none on. A single up the middle by Tim Gourlay, walk to Joe Gherna and an error by Joe Thrasher on Tom Ackerman's bounce to third loaded the bases.

Loser Roger McDowell then hit WMU's Dave Peterson with a pitch to force in the go-ahead run. A triple to the right-centerfield gap on the next pitch by Paul Schneider, who had four hits on the day, cleared the bases and gave the Broncos a commanding 6-2 lead going into the bottom of the inning.

ONE RUN would have been enough for Kris Kuhn who relieved WMU starter Greg Brake in the seventh inning and pitched eight innings of two-hit ball to record the win.

Each team scored a run in the first inning of the second game, but starting pitchers P.D. Elber and Terry Schalk soon took command. BG blew a bases-loaded opportunity in the seventh, when WMU called on Jeff Kaiser to relieve Schalk, and the Broncos' ace put an end to the rally.

An inning later, WMU scored the winning run on a controversial play. With the bases loaded and one out, Gherna hit a routine grounder to BG shortstop Jerry Drobnick, who threw to catcher Steve Schultze at the plate for an apparently easy forceout. But the umpire ruled that Schultze did not have his foot on the plate and the go-ahead run was allowed.

"We beat ourselves in the first game," Purvis said afterwards. "Our pitching was very good, but they pitched very well, too. You have to give them credit."

That did not seem to be a problem for the Falcons in Friday's doubleheader with NIU. BG banged out more hits in a six-run first inning of the first game of that doubleheader than it did in both games against WMU.

The Huskies cut that six-run lead to 6-3 on Brad Kawell's three-run homer in the second inning. After BG added a run to the lead, NIU struck for four more runs in the sixth to tie it, 7-7.

BG wasted no time regaining the lead for good. An error by NIU centerfielder Kyle Owens on Dave Litzenberg's fly ball enabled Chuck Headington to score all the way from first base after two were out in the sixth. Glasspoole ripped a double over Owen's head a pitch later to score Litzenberg and, after a walk to Joe Tedesco, Smith doubled two more runs home to make it 11-7.

ELBER GOT the win, while the Huskies' Dave Nuti took the loss.

Thrasher, who went 4-for-4 in the opener, blasted his third home run of the season in the first inning of the nightcap, but the Huskies scored all seven of their runs in the second and third innings and forced BG to play catch-up ball.

Litzenberg had six hits to lead the Falcons in yesterday's sweep of Ohio Northern.

BG breaks out of slump at EMU

Bowling Green's men's tennis team broke out of mild slump last weekend, sweeping all three matches at Ypsilanti, Mich.

The Falcons swept Northern Michigan 9-0, Friday, and knocked off Kent State, 6-3, and Eastern Michigan, 7-2 on Saturday. BG is now 8-5 overall, and 2-1 in the Mid-American Conference.

BG survived a scare last Thursday night at Wayne State, when its match was rained out. When play was called, the Falcons were leading four matches to three, but Wayne State had a sizable lead in one match, and was serving for the match in the other.

"We really didn't play with much intensity in our doubles," BG coach Bob Gill said of the Wayne State match. "In fact, we really screwed up against Wayne State. We had a 4-2 lead after the singles, and we went into the doubles and everybody thought the match was over. We just played horrendous doubles.

"THE ONLY THING that kept us from winning four out of the six singles then losing all three doubles was the fact that it rained."

"It wasn't too hard to figure out the next day that I was somewhat upset about our play," he continued, "and we did play better on Friday (against Northern Michigan)."

Against Northern, BG's Rick Bechtel defeated Bob Schmidt 6-1, 6-4; Barry Conlan downed Ron Johnson 6-0, 6-3; Bud Vetter beat Don Peterson 6-3, 6-2; Dave Epstein defeated Steve Dowrick 6-4, 6-1; Mike Zekas crushed Melvin Hendrie 6-1, 6-1; and Alan Benson beat Jerry Patterson 6-3, 6-3.

In doubles, Bechtel-Conlan downed Schmidt-Peterson 7-5, 6-4; Vetter-Chris Fuentes defeated Johnson-Dowrick 6-2, 6-3; and Benson-Zekas beat Hendrie-Patterson 6-1, 6-2.

Against Kent State, Bechtel beat

Tony Debo 6-2, 6-1; KSU's Len Simard nipped Conlan 6-7, 6-3, 7-6; Vetter downed Rocco Cona 4-6, 6-3, 6-1; Epstein swept past Rick Forrest 6-1, 6-1; Zekas downed Blaine Pitts 6-0, 6-3; and Rick Sonkin beat Alan Benson 6-4, 6-3. KSU's doubles team of Debo-Simard won their team's remaining point, beating Bechtel-Conlan 6-3, 7-6; while Vetter-Benson downed Pitts-Marc Sector 6-2, 7-5; and Epstein-Zekas defeated Cona-Forrest 6-4, 6-2.

AGAINST Eastern Michigan, Bechtel beat Bjorn Saljimar 7-5, 6-2; Conlan defeated Mike Munson 7-5, 6-2; Vetter downed Jeff Dudacek 6-1, 6-3; Epstein crushed Junis Lewis 6-1, 6-1; Greg Cheesewright beat Zekas 6-3, 7-5; and Fuentes defeated Scott Grzegorzczuk 7-6, 6-3. BG again took two of three doubles matches, as Bechtel-Conlan downed Saljimar-Dudacek 4-6, 6-3, 6-2; Vetter-Benson defeated Lewis-Cheesewright 7-6, 7-5; and EMU's Munson-Grzegorzczuk nipped Epstein-Zekas 7-5, 7-6.

WMU deals Falcons first net loss

Bowling Green's women's tennis team took two of three matches in a quadrangular meet held last weekend at the Robert Keefe courts.

The Falcons suffered their first loss of the season, Friday, losing 9-0 to Western Michigan, before rebounding to beat Ball State, 7-2, and Kent State, 6-3. BG's record now stands at 6-1 overall and 1-1 in the Mid-American Conference.

The strength of Western Michigan's squad was the surprise of the weekend, BG coach Deb Kurkiewicz said. The Broncos won 26 of 27 individual matches.

"They were better than I thought they would be," she said. "We did as well as anyone against them, but they just creamed everyone."

THE KEY to their improvement was the addition of two freshmen who now play numbers one and two for WMU, Kurkiewicz said. The top player, Sue Weigand, was particularly impressive, she said.

"Cindy (Scheper) was playing well, and Cindy got the most games off her the whole weekend, but she still lost 6-3, 6-0," Kurkiewicz said.

In other scores, Western's Nancy Martin defeated Chris Bischoff 6-3, 6-7, 7-5; Sue Davis-Crookston downed Linda Ensign 6-1, 6-0; Lynne Schendel defeated Stephanie Tober 1-6, 6-3, 6-4; Julie Hawthorne downed Amy Bottorff 6-1, 6-4; and Carol Tschudy beat Joni Lindquist 6-2, 7-6.

In doubles, Weigand-Martin beat Scheper-Bischoff 6-2, 6-3; Schendel and Davis-Crookston outlasted Ensign-Bottorff 5-7, 6-2, 6-4; and Hawthorne-Lori Magoon downed Lindquist-Tober 6-2, 6-2.

Against Ball State, Scheper beat Pat Blain 6-3, 3-6, 6-1; Bischoff defeated Sandy Fullhart 6-2, 6-2; Linda Ensign downed Janet Ross 7-6, 6-2; Stephanie Tober beat Deanna Witsken 6-3, 6-1; BSU Ann Voors downed Martha Goth, and Angie Arch defeated Lindquist 6-2, 6-3.

THE FALCONS swept the doubles, as Scheper-Bischoff over Blain-Fullhart 7-6, 6-1; Ensign-Bottorff downed Farber-Simpson 6-1, 4-6, 6-4; and Lindquist-Katrina Coleman defeated Arch-Voors 6-1, 6-4.

In the weekend's final match, against Kent State, Cindy Miller outlasted Scheper 4-6, 7-6, 6-4; Bonnie Beachy beat Chris Bischoff 6-0, 6-4; Beth Bandi downed Ensign 7-6, 6-4; Tober defeated Mindy Kline 7-5, 6-1; Bottorff downed Linda Snyder 7-6, 6-4; and Lindquist defeated Gloria Maibe 6-3, 6-3.

BG again swept the doubles matches, as Scheper-Bischoff beat Miller-Bandi 6-4, 6-2; Ensign Bottorff outlasted Beachy-Snyder 4-6, 7-5, 6-4; and Lindquist-Tober downed Kline-Karen Foster 6-1, 7-6.
